Private Watchman Ryan Promptly Turns In an Alarm.

The promptness of Private Watchman Martin Ryan in turning in an alarm promptly prevented a serious fire in the wholesale district Saturday night.

In making his rounds, Ryan found a fire on the first floor of the storehouse building at No. 519 Luma avenue, occupied by the Quinlan & Panko Printing Company and owned by the Hadden-Dean Glass Company.

It is believed that crossed electric wires caused the fire. Ryan fought the blaze with buckets of water after turning in the alarm until the firemen arrived. The damage is estimated at $100.

BEYOND BOYS' BODY IN ELEVATOR SHAFT

Police Believe That Emile Fritz Accidentally Fell From the Third Floor of M. A. C. Club—Head Crushed.

EMILE FRITZ.

The body of Emile Fritz, 15 years old, of No. 233 South Broadway, was found at 4:30 yesterday morning at the bottom of an elevator shaft in the Missouri Athletic Club, where he was employed as a bellboy.

The police are not certain as to how the boy met death, but believe he accidentally fell down the elevator shaft from the third floor of the building.

Albert Frye, also a bellboy, said he last saw Fritz on the third floor of the building at 12:30 o'clock yesterday morning. He was just getting into the elevator at the time.

Fritz's head was crushed, his right leg broken and his body badly bruised.

P. J. McHale, engineer, employed by the Missouri Athletic Club, found the body. He summoned Patrolmen Hennessey and Barry. They made an investigation and found the elevator shaft door on the third floor open. So far as is known Frye was the last person who saw Fritz.

Coroner Haron will hold an inquest to-day. Meanwhile the police will continue the investigation.

ADVERTISE FOR LOCATION OF JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER.

Chicago Man, Indicted on Charge of Running Lottery, Subpoena the Standard Oil Man in Vain.

REPUBLICAN SPECIAL.

Chicago, Ill., Jan. 29.—A. Gourdain of the Imperial Bank of Madison and Dearborn streets, indicted with J. H. Dalton on an alleged charge of advertising a lottery through express companies, spent all to-day at his apartments at the Auditorium, waiting for the news of John D. Rockefeller. Late in the evening he said:

"It looks as if they can't find John. Guess we'll have to try my case to-morrow without him."

Gourdain wanted Rockefeller, Attorney General Moody and a few others for witnesses. He subpoenaed the Standard Oil man and sent $200 to New York to pay the fare to Chicago.

The United States Marshal returned the money and said he couldn't find Rockefeller anywhere.

Then Gourdain caused this advertisement to be printed in yesterday morning's newspapers:

"Personal—A very liberal reward will be paid for reliable information as to John D. Rockefeller's whereabouts. Call or address J. A. Gourdain, No. 121 Dearborn street, Chicago, Ill."

"I'd give $100 to find him, just for my personal satisfaction," said Gourdain. He would not tell what he wanted with Rockefeller, but it is understood he desired the magnate pass on the legality of the business he is conducting.

The best clue came from New York, where a man answering Hoch's description applied for transportation at the office of the German consular agent.

WALBRIDGE'S BODY BOOSTED BY M. C. A.

Name Is Mentioned for United States Senate at the McKinley Day Celebration.

E. P. V. RITTER THE SPOKESMAN

Favors Him in Case the Caucus Nominee Falls of Election—Services in Memory of Martyred President.

The McKinley Day celebration at Central Y. M. C. A. yesterday afternoon was utilized by E. P. V. Ritter to boom C. P. Walbridge for the United States Senate.

Mr. Walbridge presided over the meeting and was introduced by his champion, who prefaced his remarks with the statement that he was well aware that politics ought not to be injected at a religious meeting.

He said that he could hardly permit the opportunity to pass without expressing the opinion that in the event the caucus nominee falls of election for the high office, the choice ought to be "the gentleman who is to preside at this meeting."

And then, as though he came near forgetting another possible choice, he added, "or our dear Brother Spencer," meaning Judge Spencer.

Men in the audience cast knowing glances at each other, but there was no demonstration.

Mr. Walbridge made but a few introductory remarks, in which he ignored entirely the allusion to the senatorship and began the programme by announcing the hymn, "Onward, Christian Soldier," which was sung by the audience.

Every available seat in the auditorium was taken, and many were compelled to stand.

In front of the pulpit desk was a large picture of the martyred President, surrounded with an American flag. Two large American flags also formed the background of the stage.

The opening prayer of the meeting was said by the Reverend Doctor Frank L. Lake of Maple Avenue M. E. Church. The quartet sang McKinley's favorite hymn, "Nearer, My God, to Thee," and "Lead Kindly Light."

The principal feature of the programme was an address delivered by Walter Williams, editor of the Columbia (Mo.) Herald. Mr. Williams paid an eloquent tribute to President McKinley and prefaced his remarks with the statement that though of different political affiliation and the editor of a Democratic paper, the occasion was one of which he was only too willing to avail himself to assist in honoring the memory of as great a man as McKinley.

Mr. Williams spoke of the gentlemanly traits of the dead President and said that he was a gentleman in every sense that the word implies.

He said that he was a man of great integrity and character and because of these virtues which were so conspicuous in him he had succeeded in gaining the confidence of the American people.

There was even lack of a semblance of any kind of an observance in the churches, most of them being content with singing the President's favorite hymn.

The McKinley carnation, which was greatly in evidence among the worshippers, was a remarkable fact, however, that but few pedestrians yesterday afternoon along some of the principal thoroughfares wore the bloom.

Florists say that there was a lack of the flower this year and that most of them were sent by the growers to Eastern cities and to Chicago, where the demand for them caused the price to jump to 25 cents and even to 50 cents for a single selected bloom.

But few of the flowers are raised in the vicinity of St. Louis. Most of those on sale here were shipped into the city from the vicinity of Chicago and Indiana points.

A conservative estimate of the number disposed of in St. Louis is about 50,000. Appropriate exercises in honor of McKinley Day will be held in the public schools to-day.

SAYS SHE WILL TRY TO END LIFE AGAIN

Girl Who Took Chloroform Declares She Is Determined to Die, and Will Take Deadlier Drug the Next Time.

MISS BESSIE LENTZ.

Who says she will try again to end her life.

"When I awoke yesterday in the hospital and found that I was still alive," said Bessie Lentz, of No. 1219 Carr street, who attempted suicide late Saturday night by drinking two ounces of chloroform, "I was sorry, as I do not care to live longer. There is no happiness in life for me."

"I am determined to kill myself, and the next time I will drink prussic acid. Then they cannot save me, as I will die in a few minutes."

Miss Lentz's mother committed suicide last November in a similar manner, and since that time Bessie has suffered from melancholia. She is the daughter of Doctor Nathan Lentz.

When asked whether she had experienced reverses in love she smiled and said that her love troubles had been small, but intimated that her mother's death had been the principal cause of her act.

Doctor Lentz and many friends visited Bessie at the hospital yesterday afternoon, but their words of encouragement seemed to meet with her disapproval, as she expressed further desire to die. Hospital authorities say that she will recover entirely within a few days.

Two Men Scalded TO DEATH IN BATHHOUSE.

Forgotten by Attendants, They Were Unable to Find Exit From the Steamroom.

New York, Jan. 29.—Shot in the steamroom of a Russian bathhouse in Hester street, two young men were scalded to death before their plight was realized by the attendants. The evidence that both had made frenzied efforts to attract attention was afforded by cuts and bruises on both the bodies and by blood-stained scratches in the plaster walls against which they had groped in their efforts to find an outlet.

The dead were Abraham Pasternak and Peter Ross, both tailors, living in Norfolk street.

Isaac Stern, the proprietor of the bathhouse, and five attendants were arrested and held pending an investigation. From inadvertent accounts the police gathered that Ross and Pasternak entered the bath last night and after being conducted into the steam room, left there and were evidently forgotten until their bodies were found to-day. There was a gas jet in the room, the fire was unlighted and in the darkness the men were unable to find the door.

YALE ALUMNI OF ST. LOUIS TO ATTEND ANNUAL BANQUET.

W. D. Simmons Elected President of Association at Yearly Meeting—Chancellor Chaplin on Japan.

A large delegation of the Yale Alumni Association of St. Louis, which held its annual meeting last Saturday night at the University Club on Grand avenue, will attend the annual banquet of the Western Association of Yale Clubs to be held in Chicago, February 1.

Following are the officers that were elected for 1905: W. D. Simmons, president; C. R. H. Smith, secretary; and Howard O'Fallon, secretary and treasurer.

P. N. Johnson, the retiring president, was chairman of the meeting. Speeches were made by the retiring president and by the incoming president. Among the most interesting features of the session was the address by Chancellor W. D. Simmons, who said that the Yale Alumni Association of St. Louis was a very important organization.

The Chancellor gave an instructive talk on the history and characteristics of the Japanese, emphasizing the point that but little is known by the outside world of these people. He recounted many personal experiences that happened during his residence of six years among the Japanese.

The remainder of the evening was given up to reminiscences of college days and singing songs of Old Yale, closing with "Bright College Years" and a cheer.
